replies to email very quick.

Sindhu is an excellent TA. She is kind and understands circumstances well, and is good at communication. Most of the time, she answers emails promptly and completely and is very thorough in her explanations.

This University is blessed to have hard working, patient, and knowledgeable TA's such as Sindhu. She is always willing to help out the students and is willing to give up her own time so that we understand the material being covered. I have met with her several times for assistance outside of class and she always approaches the situation patiently and goes the extra mile to ensure that I understand the material. I am very grateful to have her as my TA.

Her email replies are quick.

Sindhu was really helpful when I needed help and even came in when it wasn't her office hours.

Not really engaging with students, very timid. TA's should be able to confidently help students, not shy away.

I have not met with her during office hours yet so please do not count my response to her meeting her office hours. Sindhu seems to know exactly what she's talking about and she is very clear and easy to understand.

I love her, thanks for everything you do and provide for us!
